CHARMAINE PWERLE

Born: 1975 Alice Springs, Nt
Language Group: Anmatyerre
Country: Atnwengerrp
Region: Utopia north-east of Alice Springs NT

Charmaine Pwerle comes from a lineage of successful female artists. Her Grandmother is Minnie Pwerle and her mother, Barbara Weir. Her early years and education straddled two cultures and she split her time between Utopia, Alice Springs and Adelaide. Charmaine has lived across Australia, regularly returning to Utopia to see family and take part in cultural ceremonies.

Although her work echoes that of her grandmother Minnie Pwerle (who also paints Awelye), there is an idiosyncratic elegance and energy to her patterning that has been described as "having the assurance of a much more practised artist than her years or experience would suggest".

Awelye refers to the traditional body paint adorned by women during women's ceremonies. The term has meaning on two levels, both specifically describing the body paint designs but also more broadly referring to the body of cultural knowledge imbued during ceremony such as songs, dances, totems, knowledge of country, and dreaming stories.

BARBARA WEIR

Born: 1945 Bundy River Station NT
Language: Alyawarre/Anmatyerre
Country: Atnwengerrp
Region: Utopia north-east of Alice Springs NT

Born to acclaimed artist Minnie Pwerle and an Irish father, Barbara was taken from her birthplace of Utopia at age nine and sent to live in a foster home in accordance with assimilation policies of the time. She later returned to Utopia and reconnected with the stories, ceremonies and languages of her Country under the guidance of her aunt, the highly esteemed artist Emily Kngwarreye.

Barbara's practice reflects this reconnection, often depicting the Grass Seed dreaming of her country, with their delicate brush strokes that overlap and gently weave across the canvas. The grass seed is an important bush tucker for her community, it is ground into flour and used to make damper. Her evocative painting style captures the movement of a breeze through the grasslands. Subtle choices of melding colours create an invigorating yet tranquil glimpse of desert terrain. Barbara has exhibited extensively throughout Europe, the US and Australia.

MINNIE PWERLE

Born: c. 1920's
Died: 2006 Alice Springs NT
Language Group: Anmatyerre
Country: Atnwengerrp
Region: Utopia north-east of Alice Springs NT

Minnie was born at McDonnell Down Station in the Northern Territory and lived in Utopia with her family of three daughters and one son. She passed away in March 2006.

Minnie started painting in the 1980's completing batik works for the Robert Holmes a Court Collection. Since then her works have been in demand and have found their way into prominent auction houses of Sydney and Melbourne. Minnie often travelled to Adelaide, Melbourne and Sydney for exhibitions of her art which were always well received. One of Minnie's pieces was entered into the 18th National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Telstra Award in 2001. To be selected for the Telstra Award is an enormous recognition of her work.

The dreamings which Minnie painted are Body Painting (Awelye), Bush Melon, and the Bush Melon Seed. Minnie's distinctive style is linear brush-work based on the body painting used for important women's ceremonies in her native country of Atnwengerrp. She painted with a rich array of colours and her work contains a compelling visual and spiritual power.
